DAVID'S BEGINNINGS ARE RECORDED IN THESE PHOTOS OF THE OMINOUS SURGE OF THE SEA LONG BEFORE THE WINDS BEGAN. FORTUNATELY, THE ROTATION OF THIS STORM PUT MOST OF THE HARBOR CRAFT IN THE LEE OF MATTAPOISETT NECK WITH RELATIVELY MINOR DAMAGE TO BOATS. EVEN SO, MANY BOAT OWNERS BEACHED THEIR BOATS FOR SAFETY. LOSS OF POWER IN SOME SECTIONS OF TOWN AND MINOR TREE DAMAGE WERE THE RESULT OF THE HIGH WINDS AND TORRENTIAL RAINS.

Selectmen's Meeting

ASKS SIDEWALK ACTION

Mr. William Dexter of Marion Road at Bolles Corner requested that Selectmen assist in obtaining action on a project voted in the 1976 town meeting. Mr. Dexter said that he had received approval of the voters for his petition, signed by 20 neighbors, to start a sidewalk at Bolles Corner and proceed to the west along Marion Road as far as the appropriated $2000. would allow construction. He said that he hoped that progress would then be made every year to join the Beacon Street sidewalk so that pedestrians could walk Marion Road in safety. He said that each time he inquires of Highway Surveyor Manuel Nunes when the work will start he is told, "I'm busy, don't bother me." Mr. Dexter said that a town meeting vote should not be ignored and if it is, then it is time that a change should be made. If no action is forthcoming, Mr. Dexter said he will prepare a petition to place an article before the next Town Meeting to make the Highway Surveyor responsible to the Selectmen and working under their direction.

Selectman William Hubbard said that he would speak to Mr. Nunes about starting the project and he recalled that the Board of Selectmen had already spoken to the Highway Surveyor on the same subject. The Selectmen said that as an elected official Mr. Nunes operates his department and schedules work as he

Mr. Dexter said he would await the result of Selectman Hubbard's inquiry with Mr. Nunes.

OPENING ON COUNCIL ON AGING

Selectmen received the resignation of Donald Welch from the Council on Aging. They accepted with regret. This resignation follows the recent resignation of Chairman Paul Kelley and Sandra Perkins and leaves 3 openings on the Council. The Selectmen ask that interested persons submit a letter of application to their office.

RESIGNED AS CONSTABLE

Edward Cacilhas resigned as Constable effective September 1. This is an elected post and will not be filled until the next election. There are two other constables.

SEEKING APPRAISER

Harold Roeder of the Public Safety Building Needs Committee reported to Selectmen that he has been making inquiries for a land appraiser at the Selectmen's request and has come up with two possible choices.

HARBOR ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Selectmen appointed the following people to serve on the Harbor Advisory Committee: Thomas F. Brownell, Arthur W. McLean, John Firoce, Peter A. Duff, Christopher Taft and Winfield F. Jenney.

"Not to Worry"

Editorial - D.C.J.

President Jimmy Carter's calming advice to the American people is strange indeed and his logic is so faulty that it is more alarming than the Soviet troops in Cuba that he thinks are of little consequence. According to Jimmy Carter, we should not worry about the Communist troops in Cuba because they have posed no threat over the 10 or so years that they may have been there and no one noticed.

This is the very same man who urges Congress to ratify Salt II because our surveillance is good enough to detect Soviet cheating. This is the same man who saw no problem or threat to the United States in turning over the Panama Canal to a left wing government and paying an incredible cash bonus to sweeten the pot. This is the same man who bought "peace" in the Middle East at an undisclosed direct cost in U.S. dollars and a very visible cost in retaliation from the oil producing Arabs.

Calming words from the President or not, the American citizen has plenty to worry about and most of the worry originates from the lack of worry concerning the vital interests of the United States from the same Jimmy Carter.

If Soviet troops in Cuba are a test of Jimmy's will, the Communists now are well aware of how much they can get away with and they are the only ones who needn't worry.

Tri-County

CONCERT SERIES

"One of the best buys of the year is ready now at the same price it has been for the last several years". Chuck Ganzel of Mattapoisett is referring to the 1979-1980 concert series by John Pandolfi and the Regional Symphonic Band for which the prices for patrons, sponsors and season tickets haven't changed.

"We're excited about the many new people who want to become patrons and sponsors," the president of the Tri-County Music Association added. "And we have one of the best seasons ever coming up."

Concert dates are October 28, December 9 and March 9, with a free children's concert February 13. Pandolfi is lining up guest soloists for all four programs and has obtained some exciting new music for them.

For information the following people can be contacted:

In Mattapoisett, Mrs. Doris Kinney, Mrs. Philip Murray, Mrs. Charles Smith, John Atkinson, Charles Ganzel and Francis Gordon.

In Rochester - Mrs. A. Barton Cummins, Mrs. Phillippe Gaucher, and Mrs. Walter Greenwood.

In Marion - Mrs. Barbara Macy, Mrs.

THINK ABOUT IT! With gasoline exceeding $1. per gallon, local residents will be more inclined to shop locally. If you are interested in opening a small shop on an equity basis, why not consider a Village Bazaar concept ... that is, several shops under one roof. For example, four 450 sq.ft. shops, each attracting shoppers, large enough to be viable entities & small enough to be affordable. The property at 8 Church St. provides for this creative possibility. A 4000 sq.ft. block building with all utilities, available parking, within easy walking distance of 100 village homes. Extremely favorable financing available.

VALUE! New Bedford's Historic District - Dutch Colonial, 2-family. Fireplaces, modern kitchens & baths, central heat, business-zoned, parking available. $24,900.

EAST FAIRHAVEN - Office/warehouse building. Business-zoned, all utilities. 2400 sq.ft., excellent condition. $43,500.

Rochester 300

HISTORY OF THIS HOME

In the year of 1827, a new religion found its way into Rochester. The Methodists had arrived. Their church was built in North Rochester, near Snipatuit Pond. The building served as a church for a short three years, and was bought by John King, and he operated a store from the cellar, and lived upstairs. The "day book" from this store is in the possession of the Rochester Historical Society.

In 1856 it became Nickerson's store, and in 1880 George Allen's. The photo shows Mr. and Mrs. Allen, and their delivery wagon, with Fred Gerrish, deliveryman, holding the horses.

In 1889 the Rotation Town Meeting, an idea to placate the outlying regions of the town, was held here.

In 1910 the small Telephone Exchange, just a few feet east of this building, was replaced with a Telephone Exchange in the cellar. This arrangement lasted into the 1950s, when the new building at the corner of North Avenue and Braley Hill Road was built. It was only then that the building became a private home, and today it is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Besse, who loaned the photo.

The "Old Telephone exchange" is remembered fondly by many. There were as many as 24 customers on a line, including businesses. The operators kept alert and could advise callers that their party was not at home, but had just passed by on their way to so-and-so's house. A North Rochester Post Office was also in this building for a short period of time.

The front porch has been removed, as well as the stairs and the front part of the cellar, but the house is preserved right at the top of Snipatuit Road, on North Avenue.

Annual Auction

The stage in the Mattapoisett Congregational Church parish house gradually is filling up with a wide variety of items for Cora Russell of Dartmouth to put on the auction block September 29th. Co-chairmen George Sheldon and Chuck Suesens are pleased with the ways things are going but are looking for the unusual - the item that will have the town buzzing for a long time. MARION ART CENTER
MARY PEARSULL EXHIBITION

Rich browns, rusts and magentas, and deep greens, with the dramatic accent of black - these are the colors of Mary Pearsull's naturalistic and abstract paintings. You'll be immediately impressed with her sense of drama on canvas and rice paper; strong swath of black; an off-center but carefully balanced composition; a semi-abstract group of houses hanging as if suspended from a cliff. Her abstracts have a feeling of floating in space. Mary Pearsull's compositions on rice paper of fall and winter landscapes are as tranquil as the abstracts are powerful. And in all the naturalistic connection is strong.

Mary, a resident of West Wareham, is exhibiting for the first time in this area. Trained in fashion and costume design at the School of Industrial Arts, she has ex-

Rochester Band Concert

Rochester's 300th birthday was celebrated again, and made history as the first band concert in Rochester's history took place on a cool Sunday evening. John Pandolfi conducted the Musicians Local 214 of New Bedford, sponsored by the Musicians Transcription Fund of New York, in an exciting balance of tunes. Children marched to strong and patriotic marches, whirled to Latin Tunes, and pirouetted to Gersh-

ECUMENICAL COUNCIL PRESENTS
CHECK TO CENTER FOR HUMAN SERVICES

Mr. Jack W. Dean, representing the Marion Ecumenical Council, presented a check for $750.00 to Mr. Albert J. Roy, Director, Marion Center for Human Services. During the two years it has been in operation, The Marion Center for Human Services has served over 5,000 people. The Center has been cited as a model agency in the profession of helping people.

The Marion Ecumenical Council, which is composed of representatives from the Churches in Marion, wants to take this opportunity to thank all the individuals, including the local merchants, who so generously supported the Marion Birthday Calendar. Through their efforts, the Council was able to make this donation.

Softball League

Kitchen 21 moved into the playoff finals behind the strong pitching of Jimmy Corriea and Fred "Bones" Silva. In a well-played series Kitchen 21 beat Capeway Cafe 3 to 2 in the first game and 11 to 8 in the second. In the first game timely hitting by John Hinman and Jeff Dickerson with the game winning rbi gave Corriea the win. In the second game John Foley's big bat (4 hits and 4 rbi's) gave Silva the win. The losers were led by the hard hitting of first baseman Steve Gomez and some outstanding fielding by Dennis "Archie" Akin at second and Randy Chevalier at third.

In the other semi-final match Short Wave moved past Brad's into the finals in two well played games. Short Wave won the first game 4-0. Short Wave then scored six runs in the top of the 12th inning to break a 2-2 tie and gain an 8-2 win.

Kitchen 21 and Short Wave met Sunday at Sippican School at 10 A.M. in the finals.

In Division II Mahoney's beat Parts Plus two straight by the scores of 10-2 and 12-11 to gain a spot in the finals.

There is a small charge for non-members.

HILLER REGATTA

The traditional Hiller Family Regatta was held on Sunday, September 2nd, off Ira Hiller's wharf in Mattapoisett.

The three Hiller contestants, Eldridge, Emerson and William, engaged in two hotly-contested races over different triangular courses, to the encouragement and applause of an enthusiastic gallery. They crossed the finish line as follows: First Race, Eldridge, first; Emerson, second; William, third; Second Race, William, first; Emerson, second; Eldridge, third.

The final scores, pending further analysis and computer print-out, will probably award an equal number of points to each contestant. A plus, one might say, in the interests of family harmony and solidarity.

Committee Appointment

APPOINTED TO OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF ADVISORY BOARD

Robert E. Black, 9 Oakland Terrace, Mattapoisett, was appointed by Secretary of Interior, Cecil D. Andrus, to the Scientific Committee of the Outer Continental Shelf Advisory Board. The Committee will advise the Interior Department on matters concerning environmental, social, and economic impacts of oil and gas development in the waters of coastal United States.

Mr. Black is an Assistant Professor at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy, Buzzards Bay. His specialization is marine policy and ocean management, with a particular interest in facility siting and locational analysis in the coastal zone. Mr. Black encourages any resident of the community to express their opinions to him regarding development of our offshore and onshore regions.

Eisteddfod

MINSTRELS, BARDS AND DANCERS WILL GATHER AT SMU EISTEDDFOD

What is an Eisteddfod?

To Welsh folk in centuries past, it was a coming together and sitting down of bards and minstrels.

At Southeastern Massachusetts University, Eisteddfod is a September tradition which since 1971 has brought ethnic and folk musicians, artists, and dancers to the North Dartmouth campus for three days of workshops, jam sessions, exhibitions, concerts, and camaraderie. The festival has gained widespread local popularity as an entertaining weekend as well as a growing national reputation as a worthwhile activity for those interested in the traditional performing arts.

"The performers actively participate in the Eisteddford," writes Carol Rabin in A Guide to Music Festivals in America (1977). "After a musician performs he returns to the audience, gives a workshop, or perhaps joins a jam session. Eisteddfod is the kind of festival where unknowns often deliver the best music and where performers, craftsmen, and folk music enthusiasts can meet, enjoy, and learn from one another."

This year's Eisteddfod will be held on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, September 28, 29, and 30. Participants will hail from many parts of the United States as well as from Canada, the British Isles, and the Faroe Islands in the North Atlantic.

Open workshops, covering a wide range of areas from banjo playing to drinking songs to clogging lessons, will be offered free of charge on Friday afternoon and all day Saturday and Sunday. Led by musicians and artisans from around the world, with five different areas in session at all times during the day, the workshops allow spectators to wander the campus, sampling different styles of music, storytelling, and dancing. "People should come prepared," suggests an Eisteddfod organizer, "to learn something as well as kick off their shoes and dance, or loosen up their vocal chords."

In keeping with a new emphasis on ethnic and traditional dance at this year's Eisteddfod, there will be free outdoor country dancing for one and all from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. on all three days.

Other activities during Eisteddfod include a crafts fair in the auditorium lobby on Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., a children's concert at the Museum Outdoors on Old Westport Road (less than a mile from the entrance to SMU), and an exhibition in the SMU Gallery of Molas, appliqued panels from blouses made by Cuna Indian women. Evening concerts, for which admission is charged, will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

While SMU's Eisteddfods originally stressed the English, Irish, Scottish, and American music and dance traditions, recent years have seen the festival's scope expand to include South American and European specialties. This year, two new foreign areas will be introduced: Africa, and the Faroe Islands (located in the North Atlantic between Scandinavia and Scotland). Paul Berliner, an ethnomusicologist who teaches at Northwestern University, spent two years in Rhodesia collecting and studying the music of the Shona tribe. He is an authority on the mbira, a hand-held keyed instrument, which he will play both in Friday's evening concerts and in workshops during the weekend. The Faroe Islands will be represented in Sunday's concert and in workshops by Spaelimenninir I Hoydolum, a dance band with a strong Scandinavian-Celtic flavor.

Fall term: 10 weeks. For registration and information, phone 763-4264

Ballet is the foundation for all dance, athletics, gymnastics, and personal well-being. Classes arranged for all ages and grade levels.

Coordinating the Eisteddfod is its founder, SMU Associate Professor of Design Howard Glasser. A professional artist and teacher of drawing, graphic design, and calligraphy, Glasser became interested in the music of Scotland, England and Ireland when he traveled there in the 1960's. He began collecting music, and introduced musical gatherings at Carnegie Mellon University called "ceilidhs," ("kay-lees"), a Scot-Gaelic word meaning "a gathering or partying of friends". Glasser brought ceilidhs with him to SMU, where they were so well received that in 1971 he initiated the three full days of traditional folk music and crafts called Eisteddfod.

A complete listing of Eisteddfod workshops will be available at the festival, or may be obtained by calling the Eisteddfod office at SMU at 999-8557.

PROGRAM OF VOCAL MUSIC

A program featuring rarely heard vocal music of the Italian, German and French Baroque will be presented by the First Unitarian Church of New Bedford at the opening concert of its 1979-80 season on Sunday, September 23, at 4:00 P.M.

Anne Ayer, soprano, will be heard in works of Jacopo Peri (1560-1633), Heinrich Schutz (1585-1672), Jean-Baptiste Lully (1632-1687), Andre Cardinal Destouches (1672-1749), and Antonio Vivaldi (1675-1741).

From Peri's Euridice (1600), generally accepted as the first opera to have survived in its entirety, Miss Ayer will offer the so-called "Invocation", in which Orpheus rejoices in the return of Euridice from the underworld. Schutz, the greatest German composer before Bach, is represented by his setting of Psalm LXX, "Eile, mich, Gott, zu erretten", from Book I (1636) of his Kleine Geistliche Konzerte. Two quite different aspects of opera at the court of Louis XIV are represented by arias from Lully's "lyric tragedy" Thesee (1675), and from Destouches' "heroic pastoral" Isse (1696).

Following her appearance here, Miss Ayer leaves for concerts in England.

The program will also present the flutist James Robb in a Bach Sonata for flute and harpsichord.

Martin Smith will be the harpsichordist and director of various combinations of these assisting artists: Ruth Trexler, cello; Anne Danis and Grace Gould, violins; and Diana Landers, flute.

Tickets for the concerts may be purchased at the door of the Church.

Lamaze Classes

REGISTRATION AT TOBEY

It is not too late to register for the new series of Lamaze classes scheduled to begin on Wednesday, September 12th, at Tobey Hospital. This will be the twenty-first series given at the hospital by Donna Sassone, R.N., who studied the method with the American Society of Psychoprophylactics in Obstetrics. These prepared childbirth classes are designed to make labor and delivery a more comfortable and enjoyable experience by training the mother in exercise, breathing and relaxation.

The series consists of six weekly classes offering "floor work", a lending library, films and audio-visual aids for each expectant couple. Topics covered are anatomy, physiology, stages of labor, medication and anesthesia, hospital procedures, breast feeding, and adaptation to parenthood. Special training is given to the labor partner as coach in order that childbirth may be shared and be a meaningful, happy experience.

For additional information or registration, please call Donna Sassone, R.N. at 759-3874.

Police vs Firemen

BENEFIT SOFTBALL GAME

In what it is hoped to be an annual event $182.00 was collected for Muscular Dystrophy at the softball game on Labor Day between the Mattapoisett Police Department and the Mattapoisett Fire Department. This year's game was won by the police 14 to 11.

Festival at Ashumet

FRANKLINIA DAY FESTIVAL

A Franklinia Day Festival will be held at the Massachusetts Audubon Society's Ashumet Holly Reservation in East Falmouth. The event will take place on Saturday, September 22, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Activities include a Farmer's Market, craft exhibit, entertainment, baked goods, guided walks and a pumpkin contest to judge the largest or best decorated pumpkin.

The event will focus on the Franklinia tree which was named in honor of Ben Franklin. One of the few which flower in autumn, this rare tree was discovered in 1760 near the Altamaha River in Georgia. It has never grown wild anywhere else and has been preserved only by the cuttings and seeds collected at that spot.

The Franklinia Day Festival is sponsored by the Friends of Ashumet and admission is free. Ashumet Holly Reservation is located off Route 151 and Currier Road in East Falmouth. Rain day for the event is September 23.

YOUR THEATRE

Your Theatre, Inc. of New Bedford has officially kicked off its 1979-80 subscription membership drive with the announcement of its first production of the season, Maxwell Anderson's thriller BAD SEED.

The play, directed by Trudi Denault, will open Wednesday, September 19 with successive performances running September 20-22 and the following week, September 26-29.

Under consideration and now being cast for a possible November production is Henrik Ibsen's dramatic classic HEDDA GABLER.

Plautus' rollicking comedy THE BRAGGART WARRIOR and another yet to be announced comedy or musical are planned as possibles for the balance of the season.

Subscriber-only activities will include a special performance by the renowned magician Dan Tong in October, a Christmas cabaret night, the staging of the one act play NEXT by Terence McNally and directed by Judith Lemay, and Your Theatre's annual New York City Theatre Trip in April.

All persons interested in becoming season-subscribers or reserving individual tickets to regular productions should call the Mini-Theater on Parker Street at 993-0772.
